IS NEW YORK WOMAN'S CITY?

Will the day come when the population of New York City will be overwhelmingly feminine?

This question has been brought to the fore by investigators into the unemployment situation in Manhattan. They have found that few women, in comparison with the number of men, are out of work. There is always a chance for a woman, skilled or unskilled, to find remunerative labor. Every year the number of women in New York City is increasing more rapidly than the number of men. The city appeals to women. In fact, most of the stores and the greater number of the advertising in the newspapers have for their chief end the satisfying of woman's needs. It is woman's day in the biggest city in America.

The eyes of the men are turning more to the west and south, where they can be more in the open and live some of their boyhood dreams of being a pioneer. And these dreams of the boy are entirely different from the dreams of the girl. The boy wants to live in the open and hunt and fish, while the average girl wants, clothes, the opera and the excitement of the bright lights.

Is there coming a time when not only the majority of the residents of New York City will be women, but when women will hold every political office and man be relegated to the background?

ROYAL FLUSH KILLS MAN

Experienced poker players feel the thrill that comes from holding a royal flush only a few times in their lives, and this thrill was too much for Philip Brenner, a retired tailor of Far Rockaway, New York. He was sitting in his regular game, playing ten cent limit with relatives and cronies, when he drew the ace, king, queen, jack and ten of hearts. Three other players of the game held pat hands. Every one of them had raised when it came his turn to call or raise.

Brenner became very excited. Before he had the pleasure of being called and raking in the pot the cards dropped from his hand and

FARM AND HOME NEWS FROM OVER KENTUCKY

Eugene Murray and E. B. Jordan, Warren county farmers, are planning to co-operate with County Agent Rogers in conducting variety tests in wheat. Mr. Jordan will use limestone in his demonstration to show its value in increasing crop yields.

A number of poultrymen who attended the poultry culling demonstrations held in Ohio county during the past summer are planning to feed their hens a balanced ration as a result of the things they were shown at the demonstrations, according to a report of B. B. McInteer, county agent.

Farmers in the Lick Branch community of Barren county have adopted a community program of work in order to develop the agricultural interests of the community in the east way, a report from J. O. Horning, county agent, states.

More than 40,000 pounds of soybean hay were harvested from 10 acres by C. C. Kinimonth, a Muhlenberg county farmer, who conducted a demonstration with this crop, according to a report of County Agent F. O. Townes.

Larue county farmers are giving attention to improved breeding stock, according to County Agent J. W. Jones. Walter Lane and V. C. Brooks are planning to purchase a sire whose mother is a register-of-merit cow, while three other farmers will buy registered cows. Owen Daugherty has purchased a registered Jersey sire to head his dairy list.

Twenty poultry culling demonstrations held during the past months in Fulton county have been the means of removing approximately 1,000 loafer hens from the flocks of the county, a report from O. L. Cunningham, county agent, states.

Recent poultry culling demonstrations and lectures in Barren county have resulted in more than 40 farmers feeding tankage to their hens in order to increase egg production, according to a report from County Agent J. O. Horning, who co-operated with the extension division of the College of Agriculture in giving the demonstrations. The tankage will be used to balance the rations already being fed.

Broadway was recently excited by the appearance of a girl in a suit, the skirt of which swept the ground. It was the first one seen in several years and almost caused a riot.

ABSENT VOTERS' LAW IS HELD UNCONSTITUTIONAL

The absent voters' law was held unconstitutional and void by the court of appeals, but the registration law permitting registration of absentees was not affected by the decision, as registration is a matter entirely within the province of the General Assembly.

The decision was in the case of Green R. Lyon, Republican candidate for mayor of Frankfort, against J. B. Nash, county clerk, in which Lyon sought to compel the clerk to furnish separate municipal ballots on the ground that absent voters are not permitted to participate in municipal elections and the ballots for county and district offices mailed to them should not contain the city tickets.

A mandatory injunction was refused by the Appellate Judge Sampson, the whole court concurring. The constitution specifically provides that ballots must be marked by the voters at the polls. Under this decision hundreds of ballots mailed in by absent voters over the state will have to be destroyed. It particularly affects employees of the state and federal governments at Frankfort and Washington.

ENDORSEMENT OF SOCIAL WORKERS IS IMPORTANT

Endorsement by the State Conference of Social Workers at its recent convention at Lexington of the State Board of Health's plan to improve sanitation throughout Kentucky by the development of all-time county health departments will be, Dr. A. T. McCormack, the State Health Officer, said Monday, of invaluable assistance in hastening the organization of the needed county health departments throughout the state.

"The fact that the social workers attended this conference," said Dr. McCormack, "hail from all parts of the state and are persons actively engaged in advancing the causes which the conference supports immediately will operate to make the counties which are now without adequate health departments realize their needs in this particular."

The resolution adopted by the social workers urged the next General Assembly to provide the funds necessary to enable the board to function in the largest and most useful way, especially emphasizing the need of an adequate appropriation to meet the one to be made by the federal government under the Shepherd-Towner bill, which also was endorsed.

Dr. McCormack was elected president of the organization for the ensuing year.

BEEES NEED PROTECTION DURING WINTER MONTHS

Neglecting to give bees protection during the winter is responsible for the death of many hives and causes a weakened condition of many more before spring arrives, according to H. H. Jewett, bee specialist at the College of Agriculture. Bee keepers who wish to avoid losses should begin now to prepare their colonies for winter, Mr. Jewett said. All supers should be removed after the first killing frost and food provided for the bees in case there is a lack of stores. A strong ten-framed colony should weigh from 40 to 60 pounds.

The colonies may be packed in boxes singly, in pairs or in groups of four, the main object being to provide plenty of insulating material, have the colonies situated away from circulating air currents and the entrances away from the prevailing cold winds. The hives should be completely surrounded by from 4 to 10 inches of insulating material. Dry leaves may be used provided they are packed tightly. The packing should not be delayed until the winter weather comes, since harmful consequences result when the bees are disturbed during the winter. The entrances should be about three-eighths of an inch wide.
